Public Access Changes for PACER Users

1 Additional Filer Information for Public Docket Report

Previously, courts only had the option to display the filer's initials at the end of the docket text on a public docket report. A new configurable option is available that allows a court to display more detailed filer information based on the type of filer. The below is an example for how the docket entries may look if a court configured the report to display the full name of the filer for docket entries filed by a public filer while displaying the initials for the docket entries filed by court staff.
